MEMORANDUM FOR: DDCI

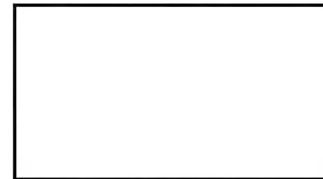

Hank -

2. The kinds of products requested require a mix of skills, the work-load fluctuates, and it would thus be costly and difficult to retain staff people on full-time status to do this work. Unique skills are required and these annuitants are not barring the career progress of any employee.

3. The program appears to be both cost affective and successful [redacted]

I recommend that you permit [redacted] effort to remain at its present level.
